Soviet Peace Bid Given U. N. Scientist Urges Halt To Salk Program

Other Doctors Disagree, Say Vaccine Safe

Sabin Seeks Serum With Less Virulent Strain Of Disease

WASHINGTON, June 22 (P)—Dr. Albert B. Sabin, a longtime critic of the Salk polio vaccine, recommended today that its manufacture be halted and a new vaccine developed with a "less virulent" strain of the disease. Other doctors disagreed.

Sabin, a University of Cincinnati researcher, made his recommendations in testifying at a symposium on the vaccine conducted by a House Commerce subcommittee. Chairman Priest (D-Tenn) had called in 15 medical experts with the hope of creating "renewed confidence" in the mass vaccination program now under way.

Other Doctors Take Issue

Two other doctors present took issue with Sabin, who is working on his own formula for an anti-polio vaccine. They were Dr. Thomas M. Rivers of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, New York, and Dr. Joseph E. Smadel of the Army's Walter Reed General Hospital here.

Rivers said that what Sabin was suggesting was "That we stop making a safe vaccine and make a safer one."

Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele told another congressional group last week that the Salk vaccine is "a potent material as safe as we know how to make it."

But Sabin, who is working with the Children's Hospital Research Foundation in Cincinnati, contended there is no way to be sure the vaccine now used can be made "regularly safe."

Salk Stays Out Of Argument

Dr. Jonas E. Salk of the University of Pittsburgh, developer of the controversial vaccine, took no part in the argument except to warn against "losing sight of the forest for the trees."

"I prefer to remain in the role of an investigator providing the facts," Salk told the subcommittee. Speaking to newsmen later, however, Salk expressed confidence in the current inoculation program.

No answers had been provided to a series of questions put by Rep. Wolverton (R-NJ) when the hearing recessed until tomorrow. Wolverton wanted to know what most of the doctors thought about Sabin's proposal.

So far about six million school children in the first and second grades have been inoculated with the Salk vaccine.

Ford-GM Type Pact Extended

DETROIT, June 22 (P)—The Ford-General Motors version of a modified guaranteed wage was extended today to 6,000 tool and die men in 75 Detroit shops.

In other auto labor developments, both the Ford and General Motors contracts were given votes of approval by major units of the CIO United Auto Workers.

And American Motors (Nash-Hudson) and the UAW resumed negotiations today. The union is demanding a guaranteed annual wage, but the talks currently are centered on vacation pay.

The UAW's big Ford Local 600, storm center of opposition to the Ford-UAW agreement when it was reached two weeks ago, announced that its members had approved the pact by better than 2-1. The vote was 17,567-8,236.

President Carl Stellato of Local 600 interpreted the vote as the green light for the UAW to move forward in an all-out effort to achieve a 30-hour week at 40 hours' pay in our next set of negotiations."

McCarthy Takes Senate Drubbing

Resolution On Big Four Talks Rejected 77-4

WASHINGTON, June 22 (P)—The Senate administered a 77-4 drubbing today to Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and his resolution to force a discussion of the Soviet satellites at the forthcoming Big Four conference.

In the maneuvering and heated bickering that preceded the vote, McCarthy tried and failed to call off a direct showdown. The Democratic leadership blocked that maneuver and the result was the overwhelming vote rebuffing McCarthy.

The Senate roared down a motion by Sen. Jenner (R-Wis), friend of McCarthy, to send the resolution back to the Foreign Relations Committee. It balked at taking what McCarthy called a "softened down" substitute. It refused to let McCarthy withdraw the original.

McCarthy Hurts Charges

And the Wisconsin senator wound up by tossing charges of aiding the Communists at those who insisted on the showdown vote which McCarthy himself had been demanding as late as last Monday.

The administration, Senate leaders of both parties and the Foreign Relations Committee teamed up almost solidly against the resolution, which would have expressed the sense of the Senate that Russia be required in advance to agree to take up the status of her European and Asian satellites at the top-level Big Four meeting in Geneva July 18. Thus the resolution, in effect, would have put the Senate on record as opposing any Big Four conference unless Moscow gave such consent.

Ike "Hand-Tying" Protested

Senator after senator protested that this would "tie the hands" of the President and show lack of confidence in him.

In the end, only McCarthy, Jenner, and Sens. Langer (R-N.D.) and Malone (R-New) voted for the resolution.

An objection by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark), an old McCarthy foe, blocked the attempt to withdraw the resolution and get it off the floor. McCarthy promptly accused Fulbright of doing a "stellar service to the Communist party."

Although there have been many rumors of negotiations to form a three or five-man junta, in which the power of Peron would be considerably reduced, there has been no outward indication of a change in government.

Two moves went far toward restoring normalcy. Army guards were withdrawn from bombed Government House and other damaged areas around Plaza de Mayo for the first time since the rebel attack.

Political Prisoners Freed

The government also announced political prisoners were being released.

Congress met for its usual Wednesday afternoon session and received a message from Peron asking an emergency appropriation of 150 million pesos ($11 million dollars). Two-thirds of this would be for repairs of public buildings as a result of the revolt and the remainder for repair of private property.

France Faces Strike

PARIS, June 22 (P)—France was threatened today with an unlimited strike of civil servants beginning July 1.

They are asking a raise of 4,000 francs ($11.42) a month. Their basic salary presently is 23,000 francs ($65.71).

Any increase would have to be voted by the National Assembly.

Brucker New Army Chief As Stevens Quits

Secretary Resigns Year After Clash With Sen. McCarthy

WASHINGTON, June 22 (P)—Robert T. Stevens quit as secretary of the Army today, a year after his celebrated row with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). President Eisenhower named Pentagon general counsel Wilber M. Brucker, a sometime Republican governor of Michigan, to succeed him.

Stevens, who had said repeatedly he would stay in office as long as the President wanted him, gave unspecified "compelling personal considerations" as his reasons for resigning, effective toward the end of next month.

Eisenhower, in a letter accepting the resignation "with deep regret," praised him for "devotion."

No Reference To Row

Neither man made any reference to the McCarthy-Army row which roared to a climax just about this time last year. Since then four other figures in the controversy have left the government—McCarthy aides Roy M. Cohn and Francis P. Carr; Army counsel John G. Adams and Asst. Secretary of Defense H. Struve Henzel.

In addition McCarthy was rebuked by the Senate—though not on charges growing directly out of his feud with Stevens and other Pentagon officials. McCarthy declined comment today on Stevens' resignation.

Brucker, McCarthy Clash

Brucker, who will be 61 tomorrow, has been the Defense Department's general counsel—and head of its security system—since April 1954. He had something of a clash with McCarthy during a Senate investigation of the "Who Promoted Peress?" case earlier this year.

The White House announced the Stevens-Brucker shift just before Eisenhower took off for a swing through New England. Only yesterday presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty denied any knowledge that the long-rumored Stevens resignation was imminent.

New Reserve Bill Prepared

WASHINGTON, June 22 (P)—A House Armed Services subcommittee today decided to try getting President Eisenhower's controversial six-months' training program for teen-agers volunteering for reserve service. The language was changed somewhat.

The measure eliminated all reference to the National Guard, in an obvious effort to forestall another antisegregation amendment. The President's program has been stalled for weeks because of a House-approved proviso prohibiting federal assignment of reservists to National Guard units practicing segregation.

Otherwise the measure closely parallels the now-stalemated bill.

After a daylong session, the subcommittee approved, 11-1, a new measure continuing the disputed special six months' training program for teen-agers volunteering for reserve service. The language was changed somewhat.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) said the House Armed Services Committee will approve the new bill Tuesday. It will be hurried to the House for action next week, in response to President Eisenhower's repeated requests for a prompt decision.

It said statistics showed about 7,900 persons on foot were killed in motor vehicle accidents in 1954, as compared with 8,600 in 1953 and 15,500 during the peak year of 1953.

Last Year Safest For Pedestrians

WASHINGTON, June 22 (P)—Last year was the safest on record for the pedestrian, the American Automobile Assn. announced today.

Molotov Interview On Radio-TV Twice

NEW YORK, June 22 (P)—An interview with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov will be carried twice—Saturday and Sunday—on both the CBS television and CBS radio networks.

CBS said the Molotov appearance on its "Face The Nation" program, originating in San Francisco, will be a special event on CBS television and radio Saturday at 10:30 p.m. EST.

The half-hour program will be carried again at its regularly scheduled times on Sunday, at 3:30 p.m. EST on television and at 9:05 p.m. EST on radio.

House Group Approves $3.2 Billion Aid Budget

WASHINGTON, June 22 (P)—The House Foreign Affairs Committee today approved a $3,285,000,000 foreign aid budget for next fiscal year after slicing $139,200,000 from the amount authorized by the Senate.

The vote was 20-4.

Chairman Richards (D-SC) said attempts to curtail aid to Yugoslavia and India were defeated by close votes. Except for the cuts, he added, the bill was approved in substantially the form requested by President Eisenhower and approved by the Senate.

The measure, which probably will reach the House floor next week, merely authorizes funds for the year beginning July 1. Actual appropriations must be approved separately.

The President had requested about $15 billion dollars in economic and military assistance for friendly nations.

In its main cut, the committee slashed 145 million dollars from military aid. That reduced the total for weapons for global allies to $1,133,000,000.

Richards said this was a general reduction, without pinpointing areas. Arms aid is now largely earmarked for Asia but the country-by-country breakdown is secret.

On one controversial point the committee approved a Senate provision that Civil Service regulations be observed in any dismissal from the Foreign Operations Administration. The Eisenhower administration had sought authority to fire anyone earning over $5,000 annually when FOA disbanded June 30 and its functions are transferred to a new agency within the State Department.

Police Capture Prison Escapee

IONIA, Mich., June 22 (P)—A confessed killer, described as desperate and dangerous, was captured without trouble tonight after 24 hours of freedom from the Ionia State Reformatory.

The fugitive, James Ecker, 19, was seized as he tried to elude state police by swimming across the Grand River.

Ecker was taken two hours after he was spotted by a former reformatory employee walking along the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad tracks on the eastern outskirts of Ionia.

The employee, unidentified, blew his car horn, and Ecker sprinted back into Ionia. Later another reformatory employee, Norman Wakefield, sighted Ecker creeping through tall grass beside the Grand River at the Ionia Free Fair Grounds.

Wakefield summoned Corp. James Kiomento and Trooper Charles Labelle of the East Lansing State Police post, who were passing in their squad car. The two troopers leaped from their car and ran to the river.

Ecker jumped into the river and started swimming. When Kiomento shouted to the youth to return or he would shoot Ecker swam back to the bank.

Italian Police Free Four New Yorkers

ROME, June 22 (P)—Italian police held four New Yorkers in custody for seven hours today and then released them with an apology that "it was all a mistake."

One of the four—Peter J. Riordan of 984 3rd Ave., New York City—said the officers asked Joseph Michael Vitacco of 201 S. 4th St., Brooklyn, "some questions" about the $305,243 robbery of a Chase Manhattan branch bank in New York last April.

They did not mention the robbery to the others, he said.

The other two men gave their names as John Timothy O'Connell of 5644 187th St., Flushing, N. Y., and Daniel William MacGuire of New York City. MacGuire declined to give a street address.

GM Adds Half Billion To Expansion Plans

DETROIT, June 22 (P)—Another half billion dollar program to expand its passenger car production capacity was announced today by General Motors Corp.

The newest project brings to two billion dollars the total General Motors expansion program announced by the corporation since January, 1954. It extends to four billion dollars the amount GM will have expended in the United States and Canada for capital investment since the end of World War II.

In the same period Ford Motor Co., presently General Motors' stiffest competitor in production and sales volume has invested or earmarked for investment $2,325,000,000 for expansion.

Jones was convicted of violating a city ordinance by doing legal work for Albert Haar and Samuel Winik, the garage owners, while a member of the off-street parking commission.

Piracci, whose firm built more than half of the 19 garages constructed under the city's unique program of loaning up to 85 per cent of their cost to private interests, was convicted of conspiring to defraud the city of more than $42,000 and of conspiring to obstruct justice by falsifying his records.

Suspects In Shooting Spree Held Under $4,500 Bond

Two men arrested early Monday morning following a wild shooting spree on U. S. Route 40, about 20 miles east of Uniontown, were transferred to the Fayette County (Pa.) jail Tuesday night in default of $4,500 bond each.

A Cumberland, Lyman Zeller, 23, and Paul Kiddy, 22, of Frostburg, were among the motorists slightly injured by glass when bullets shattered windows in their cars.

William W. Jackson, 59, Pagosa Springs, Colo., and Samuel P. Johnson, 39, Houston, Texas, were charged with assault with intent to kill and with violating the uniform Firearms Act before Justice of the Peace Victor Holt in Farmington Tuesday.

The pair is accused of firing with deadly weapons at more than 10 passing cars on U. S. 40, near Markleysburg, late Sunday night, wounding at least four known persons.

Jackson alone was armed with a .22 caliber revolver and a .32 caliber automatic. His pockets were filled with ammunition for the weapons, police said. Johnson was not armed. The two were traveling in a panel truck.

Johnson denied the charges, claiming that Jackson had picked him up as a hitchhiker near Columbus. Johnson told police a bus driver in Columbus could identify him as alighting from a bus with two pieces of baggage.

Johnson also told police that Jackson had forced him at gunpoint to remain in the truck while traveling through the mountains.

Once, after trying to escape from the truck, Johnson said, Jackson told him to get back or "you'll never get out of these mountains alive," those at the scene stated.

Jackson, for the most part, was quiet during questioning, repeating incoherently such phrases as "I'm not going to run any more. I just decided to stop and shoot it out."

Jackson was reportedly on his way to Washington "to complain to the Justice Department" against hoodlums following him in cars with lights "brighter than the sun."

Dr. Harold Kamons, Farmington physician, treated two victims at the scene and also spoke with Jackson.

Jackson and Johnson were apprehended on a deserted stretch of U. S. 40 by Constable Clarence Savage, Henry Clay Township, who patrolled the vicinity with Lloyd T. Kerr, Uniontown, a motorist whose aid he enlisted. Savage was in the rear of the Kerr car with a flashlight and a gun.

Savage played the flashlight into the cab of the truck and commanded Jackson, driving, to halt. However, the truck continued ahead at a slow pace and only after Savage shouted a second time did Jackson make a complete stop. Jackson seemed to make an attempt to reach one of the holstered guns under his bib-overalls, but Savage reached him and threw handcuffs on him in quick order.

The two are slated for a hearing later this week.

Tucker County School Board Lists Teacher Assignments

He also did post graduate work at Davis and Elkins College and received his Master's degree from West Virginia University in Morgantown. Maryland Bans Teacher College Segregation

State Board Urges Action By Counties

By LOU PANOS

BALTIMORE, June 22 (P) — The color line was erased in Maryland State teachers colleges today.

The State Board of Education and Board of Trustees of the teachers colleges adopted a resolution declaring racial segregation in the five colleges "is hereby abolished."

In the same step it urged public school officials in the 23 counties to comply with the recent Supreme Court decree banning segregation in public schools before further court action forces them to do so.

Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr., state superintendent of schools, proposed the resolution opening all teachers colleges to all students, and it was adopted unanimously.

Baltimore City, which is not in any county, began desegregation in public schools last fall, as soon as possible after the broad Supreme Court opinion generally declaring separate schools for whites and Negroes were unconstitutional.

The Board of Education announced it would put desegregation machinery into motion as soon as the court issued its follow-up decree, which would give further details on how and when the schools should be opened to all races.

Today's resolution, marking Maryland's first statewide elimination of the color bar in education, came 52 days after the follow-up decree was issued.

That decree called for a "prompt and reasonable start" toward desegregation.

"Segregation according to race is hereby abolished in all of the State teachers colleges of Maryland," said the resolution.

"Historically and under the former practice of separate but equal facilities the present State teachers colleges have heretofore been classified into three colleges for white students and two colleges for colored students. That classification is now eliminated."

(Colleges at Frostburg, Salisbury and Towson have been used for white students. Negroes attended those at Bowie and Baltimore.)

"Now that the Supreme Court has passed its mandate and has directed compliance with its decree with deliberate speed and with due regard to local conditions and in conformity with equitable considerations," the resolution continued, "the State Board of Education calls upon the local public school officials to commence this transition at the earliest practicable date, with the view of implementing the law of the land."

There was virtually no discussion on a motion to adopt the resolution. The board in earlier announcements had taken a firm stand in favor of compliance with the Supreme Court mandate.

The resolution noted that Maryland Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert advised the board yesterday that the mandate "is automatically binding upon the public school system of Maryland."

It had been suggested that, because Maryland was not one of the five states involved in cases which resulted in the mandate, it technically was not affected. As one lawyer had put it, "You don't need a crystal ball to see how the court would rule in a similar case involving Maryland."

But Sybert's opinion said the banning of segregation was "crystal clear." It does not mean that Maryland must become involved in similar lawsuit before the decision becomes applicable to this State, he said.

In other actions today, the Board of Education:

1. Approved physical examinations for school-bus drivers.

2. Received an invitation from Pullen to attend a two-day session of the Maryland Conference on Education opening Friday in Baltimore. The conference will draw up recommendations to present to the White House Conference on Education, which will meet in Washington later to study major problems facing school officials throughout the nation. Moorefield Lions Hold Installation

New President Is W. C. Harper

MOOREFIELD — Ralph Haines, Romney attorney, representing Lions International, installed the newly elected officers of the Moorefield Lions Club in ceremonies held at the Hotel McNeill Monday night. Haines outlined the duties of the new officers and received a pledge from them to perform the duties throughout the year. Haines, a member of the Romney Lions Club, recalled that 18 years ago the Romney Club had sponsored the Moorefield Club.

Officers in the installation ceremony were W. C. Harper, president; William Clark, vice president; Joe Schriener, secretary; John W. McNeill, treasurer; Ted Burns, tail twister, H. Gus Munzing, assistant tail twister; J. M. Harrison, Lion Tamer and Paul Keasey, member of the board of directors.

Retiring president Lewis Moonau, thanked the club members for the support he had received during the year and enumerated the accomplishments of the club under his leadership.

Among the public service functions sponsored were the tour to the nations capitol on a special B&O train; sponsoring of the Halloween parade; entry of a float in the Poultry Festival; distribution of the greatest number of Christmas baskets to date; work of the industrial committee in securing a new industry; a publicity brochure; the fight against the raising of the telephone rate in Hardy County; the White Elephant sale; the annual March of Dimes contest; Christmas decorations; and the annual picnic at Lost River State Park.

Don Baker, chairman of the telephone committee for the Lions club, reported the campaign for funds for the non-member equity from the business and professional men was proceeding satisfactorily but it is urgent that checks be in the hands of the treasurer Robert L. Baker, Fabius, as quickly as possible.

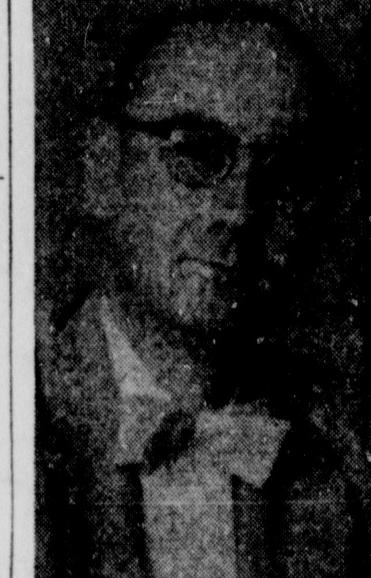

The annual Ladies Night and installation of officers dinner will be held Thursday, July 14, at Minke's Cottage Inn.

The largest group to receive attendance pins will be awarded.

Entertainment will be provided and dancing will follow the program.

The campaign, "Be Thankful You Can See" is meeting with satisfactory response. Those who have not made their contribution are asked to make a donation for the sight conservation project.

The resolution noted that Maryland Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert advised the board yesterday that the mandate "is automatically binding upon the public school system of Maryland."

It had been suggested that, because Maryland was not one of the five states involved in cases which resulted in the mandate, it technically was not affected. As one lawyer had put it, "You don't need a crystal ball to see how the court would rule in a similar case involving Maryland."

But Sybert's opinion said the banning of segregation was "crystal clear." It does not mean that Maryland must become involved in similar lawsuit before the decision becomes applicable to this State, he said.

In other actions today, the Board of Education:

1. Approved physical examinations for school-bus drivers.

2. Received an invitation from Pullen to attend a two-day session of the Maryland Conference on Education opening Friday in Baltimore. CD Representative

Smith, president of the Firemen's Association, said a plan has been worked out by the association to have a volunteer fireman and past presidents.

He recommended that the new president should appoint a committee to continue the work for a state fire marshal's office and laws to govern this office.

Smith also recommended that the association institute proceedings to make it mandatory for all new cars sold in Maryland to have ash trays in both front and back seats.

The state executive committee noted the effort put forth in the past year to have the state fire marshal's office made independent of the State Insurance Office.

The secretary, Floyd B. Heimer of Walkersville, reported that one new company joined the association, Jacksonville Volunteer Fire Company, Baltimore County; one unit withdrew, the Chevy Chase Volunteer Fire Company.

Special Auto Tags

The transportation committee pointed out 3,280 firemen obtained special auto tags for volunteer firemen in the block from FA 1001 to FA 3413. Of 269 companies, 216 units participated in this program.

The board of trustees, of which John S. Prichard of Grantsville is chairman, reported the board acted on 34 injury claims that cost $4,832. In addition, the board paid $17,760 in pensions plus one death benefit of $750, making a total expenditure of $23,342 for the year.

The board announced that as a result of the additional $5,000 allotment from the state, more pensions were increased from $60 to $70 effective June 1, and the pensions of minor children from $15 to $25 per month. In addition the board will pay a maximum of $100 for medical expenses in lieu of per diem payments of $5.

The trustees noted that there was only one accidental death of a volunteer fireman in Maryland while he was in the line of duty during the past year.

Uranium Prospecting And Boom In Maps

Mapmakers all over the United States are enjoying a boom, unlike anything heretofore experienced, as a result of the steadily increasing interest in uranium prospecting. Private and governmental agencies are selling thousands of maps showing potential deposits of the precious mineral to professional and amateur prospectors, vacationers and the plain curious.

It seems any map with the word uranium on it can be sold in almost limitless quantities. The U. S. Geological Survey, for instance, recently published a map showing the uranium, vanadium and copper deposits of the Colorado plateau, the largest source of uranium in the United States. Ten thousand copies were to be sold at 50 cents apiece but in three weeks the supply became so low that 15,000 more were printed.

In a western state a section of land was opened up to prospectors. On the first day of the land rush an enterprising local printer made up 100 maps of the area. Before the day was over he had sold all of them for one dollar each. Although Westerners are by far the biggest buyers of uranium maps, the East is far from disinterested. Many people from areas where uranium has not been found are planning their vacations to include some prospecting in the promising states.

At least three eastern states—South Carolina, Georgia and Florida—have some radioactive deposits and the Geological Survey has had trouble keeping enough maps of these states on hand.

Prospecting may well become a national pastime and probably would have long ago if it weren't for the fixed price of gold. Much higher premiums are paid for uranium because of defense requirements and its potentialities as an energy generator. Gold is difficult to find in sufficient quantities to make the government-fixed price of $35 an ounce profitable.

There are only two drawbacks to the encouragement of prospecting of all kinds: claim-jumpers, with the possibility of bloodshed, and the already present friction between prospectors and ranchers and farmers.

Friction and bad feeling in prospecting, and most other ventures for that matter, are caused by either crooks or the ignorant. As an example of the latter group, the Geological Survey relates the story of a man who brought his map into the Survey office so they could show him how to read it. After this had been done he asked, "What does uranium look like when I find it, and after I find it who do I sell it to?" Multiply this one case a thousand times and it becomes easy to see why officials are keeping a sharp eye peeled for any outbreaks similar to those that accompanied gold rushes of the past.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Convertibility

The problem of money and its value has long plagued the human race. There is no universal monetary standard. It used to be, in what appears to us now the very distant past, that gold was acknowledged as the base to which most currencies were related. But the world went off gold and never got right again.

The British were the first among the great marketing nations to open a free market for gold. The operation is still small and is in a few hands led by Samuel Montagu & Co., Ltd., an old and highly respected banking house in London. It is too early to say that the British are ready to restore the gold standard, but they are prepared to establish some system of convertibility, that is, for a free and more stabilized conversion of one currency to another.

Most of the continental European countries are opposed to convertibility because they presently manipulate their currencies to give them an advantage in world markets. Their general contention is that if they lose that advantage, they will not be able to compete with American goods which are produced by mass production methods and therefore more cheaply in huge quantities.

Continental European countries are not ready for mass production because they lack a home market to sustain this method. They cannot dispose of immense quantities of automobiles. Most of those countries have too low a standard of living for vast mass production enterprises. They cannot sell to their own markets. Many of them will never be able to meet American productivity and economically should not be. In fact, the past years of supported prices would indicate that our productive capacity is so great that it is rapidly overcoming our ability to consume. This is particularly true of agricultural commodities and is beginning to be felt in the automobile industry. The limitation upon European production is the consumer's market; the limitations upon American production have been the number of machines used, the access to raw materials, and the cost of capital.

As long as each country insists upon making products which they cannot sell by normal trading methods, the manipulation of currency by governments seems to the Europeans to be an economic necessity and they will therefore continue to oppose convertibility which is the first essential step toward economic stabilization. Both Great Britain and the United States favor convertibility in principle.

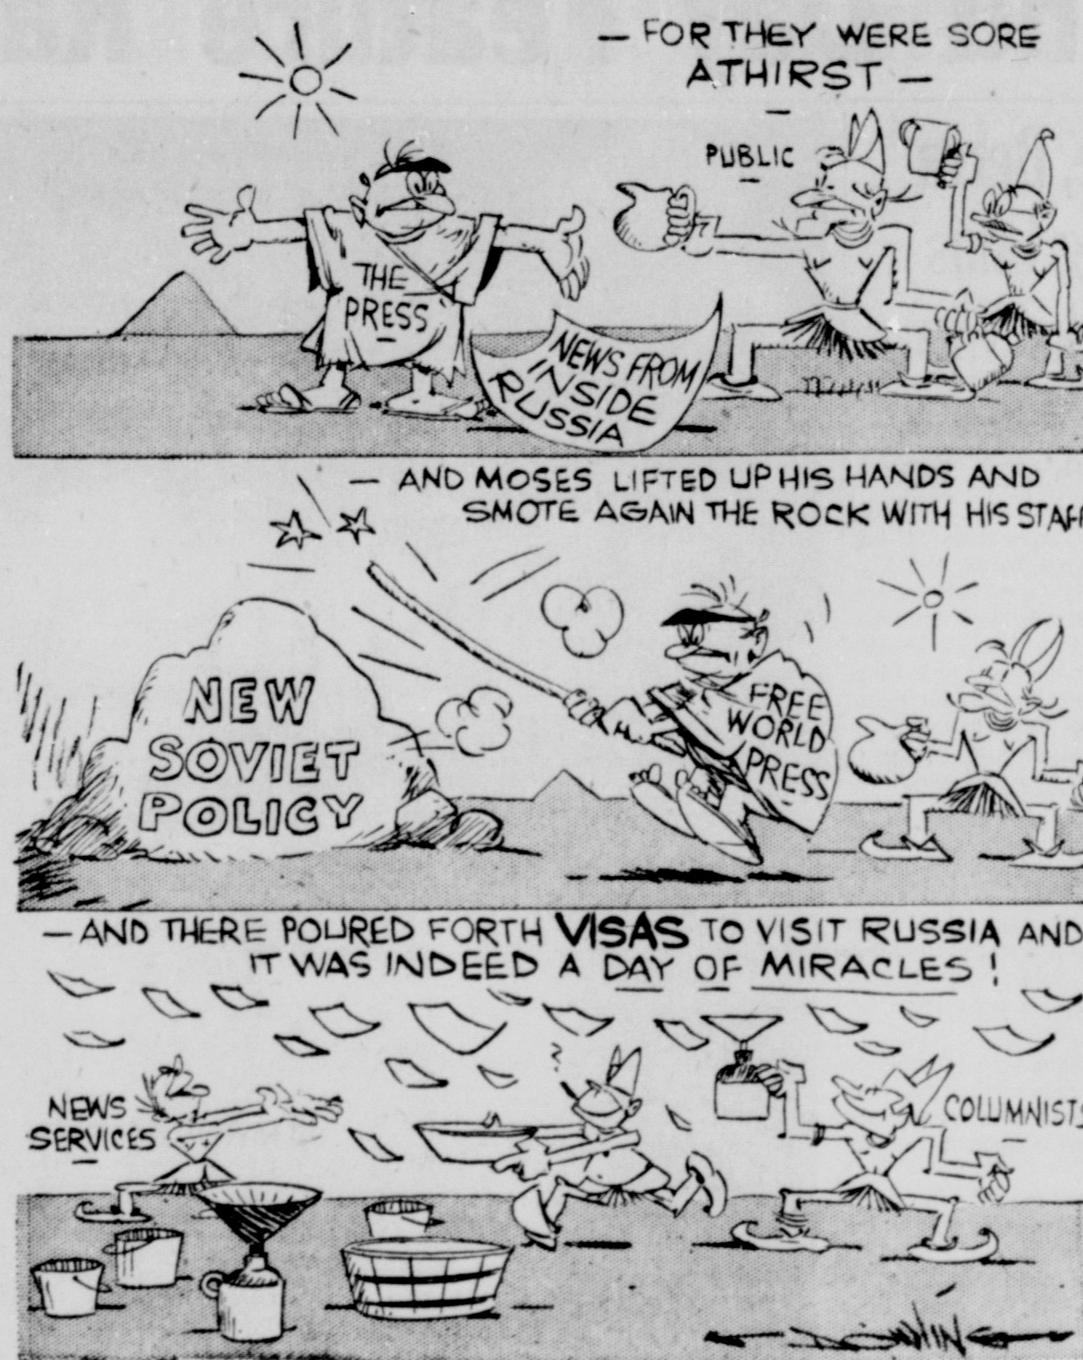

It has long been hoped that an economic union might be established in Western Europe with a population as large as that of the United States. The European Coal and Steel Community was the first step in that direction and under the leadership of Jean Monnet, it has managed to do better than was expected for it. If the same principles of operation could be established for other commodities and embracing more countries, the way would be clear for an economic United States of Europe.

Obviously the reason why the United States and Soviet Russia are economically so effective is that they have a broad base. Domestically, they have established, each according to its own economic system, a vast area for the consumption of goods and the supply of raw materials without tariffs or other similar impediments. Most European countries are not in a position to do that. Even Great Britain has to import from abroad most of its raw materials and many of the continental European countries are lacking in basic supplies within their own borders. If there were a free market, many of them would be forced to return to agriculture and to small, household industries.

These are a few of the reasons for Western European opposition to convertibility of currency.

The Day Of Miracles

Nehru Goes Counter To "Relaxation Of Tension"

By David Lawrence

have a surprise in store for them. The delegates here from the principal Western powers have had a chance to talk a lot to each other about the forthcoming four-power meeting at Geneva, and there is beginning to be a clearer idea of the Western position and tactics.

More Allied Confidence

For this is Nehru's idea of how to play the part of a mediator or conciliator and if this is the reason why he has sent his stooge, Krishna Menon, here to talk about the supposedly great mediating power of India in the world today, somebody is in for a sad awakening.

Nehru Slaps U.S.

Maybe Nehru, who now has arrogantly lined himself up on the Communist side and defiantly takes a slap at the policies of the United States and does it in Moscow itself, is unaware what impartiality really means. Maybe he doesn't know that here at the San Francisco conference they don't dare mention Red China, because that Communist regime was responsible for the major defeat handed the United Nations in Korea. But the sum total of Mr. Nehru's comments is to arouse the delegates here to the fact that they may make all the fine orations they wish about peace but, until the so-called democracies—India included—play ball together, the gangsters in the Moscow government are going to feel they are making progress both in dividing the West and in forcing an acceptance of Communist demands.

Soviet Premier Bulganin, who spoke in Moscow after Mr. Nehru did, told the same audience that he was going to the four-power meeting at Geneva to help in the "relaxation of tension." Evidently Mr. Nehru now has expressed his idea of how to relax tension—give it to the Communist demands, starting with the admission of Red China into the United Nations.

But Messrs. Nehru and Bulganin

have a surprise in store for them. The delegates here from the principal Western powers have had a chance to talk a lot to each other about the forthcoming four-power meeting at Geneva, and there is beginning to be a clearer idea of the Western position and tactics.

More Allied Confidence

For this is Nehru's idea of how to play the part of a mediator or conciliator and if this is the reason why he has sent his stooge, Krishna Menon, here to talk about the supposedly great mediating power of India in the world today, somebody is in for a sad awakening.

There is more confidence now in the ranks of the Allied governments—Great Britain, the United States and France—as to the approach to be made at the Four-Power meeting than there has been at any time since the conference idea was announced.

What has happened is that the three foreign ministers see the situation as one that can lead to "relaxation of tension" if the government which has produced the tension does some relaxing of the things that since 1945 have alarmed the world and brought the threat of World War III.

So it appears to be the Western strategy to say frankly to the Soviets that the time has come for some manifestations—some withdrawals from the positions hitherto taken by the Moscow regime. The controversy in Washington, stimulated by the resolution of Senator McCarthy demanding that the status of the satellite states be discussed at the Big Four meeting, is in a sense academic. It is important, of course, to bring up the subject at the Geneva meeting, and this has been the intention right

Bush, With Private Expense Fund, Opposed Salary Hike For Senators

By Drew Pearson

Street banker who has raised all sorts of money for the Republican party, and his GOP colleague from Connecticut knew it. Whether he knew Bush had a secret expense fund, is not known. But Purtell knew that Bush, before his election to Congress, had been a director of Columbia Broadcasting, the Vanadium Corp. of America, Prudential Insurance, the U. S. Guaranty Co., the Simmons Corp., Rockbestos Products, and chairman of Pennsylvania Water and Power. Few other sitting senators have had so many ties with big business when they ran for office.

So Senator Purtell persisted. Few Farmers In Senate

"In other words," he remarked, "the senator feels that if one with a growing family and having no inherited or acquired wealth finds himself unable to meet the demands of his family, he ought not to run for office."

Senator Bush was too wise politically to admit this. He denied it. But he made his position quite clear during the debate that he believed only the wealthy should hold office.

"Does the senator agree with me that such persons do have difficulty in making both ends meet in view of the fact that they have two homes to maintain and are trying to educate their children and at the same time are trying to meet the demands of their constituents by going back and forth between their districts and Washington?"

"May I further ask the senator," pressed Purtell, "whether he thinks such persons should deny to their loved ones some of the necessities in the way of education and otherwise that more wealthy men and women can give to their families and children?"

Bush Mum On Fund

Senator Bush at no time intimated that friends were raising a secret fund to help him go back and forth to meet with his constituents. But, in replying to Purtell, he did give away his belief that people without money should not serve in Congress.

"I would remind the senator," he told his colleague from Connecticut, "that such persons are not compelled by any requirements except their own preference to serve in the House. There is no compulsion for such persons to remain members of the House if they do not think the reward is satisfactory and they find themselves in a position of hardship."

"Does the senator believe," asked Purtell, pressing the point further, "that the salaries should be either inherited or acquired wealth before becoming a member of Congress?"

"Will the senator repeat the question?" purred Bush of Connecticut.

"I think I had better repeat the question," replied Purtell of Connecticut. "Is it the senator's opinion along of the Department of State. But what is of greater importance is to outline to the Soviets that it is the status of all European states which must be changed—from an atmosphere of coercion and military domination to one of freedom from fear. The fate of one is tied up with the fate of all the others.

Heart Of Peace

Thus it may be expected that the Western leaders will propose that the security system in which every nation will be free and independent. Unquestionably this puts up to the Communists the necessity for their abandonment of all military coercion of the satellite states and all communistic infiltration into the West as well.

Nobody need assume that the Western foreign ministers and heads of state will fail to point out the causes of tension. There will be public speeches and private conferences on that subject, for this is the heart of the peace problem of today.

The meeting here is serving to consolidate viewpoints and to bring the three foreign ministers into harmonious accord as to the best way to deal with the Geneva conference. That's the reason why they talk hopefully and confidently here about the dramatic impact which they expect the Four-Power meeting to have in stirring up the moral forces of the world. That's why there isn't much emphasis on "agreements" as such. For really no agreements are necessary. All that's necessary is for the Communists to stop their aggression, their infiltration, their coercion and their tyrannical behavior. That would mean "relaxation of tension" everywhere without so much as a written document to specify it.

If the aggressors will refrain from aggression and voluntarily become peaceful, then maybe the skeptics will believe that the miracle of peaceful coexistence might happen. It's that simple, despite the many hundred of thousands of words in the speeches and the comments in the press at Moscow and elsewhere.

What Oregon-booted strides we have made is due to preventing goodwill ambassadors from meeting.

Involvement of the muscles of half the lips leads to difficulty in whistling, smiling, and showing the teeth. On smiling, the angle of the mouth on the good side goes up, whereas the other side remains down or is pulled toward the sound side. Furthermore, the victim is unable to wrinkle the brow or close the eye on the affected side.

An analogous situation exists in eating; the flabby cheek fails to chew and is given a mean bite on chewing food. Tears stream down the Paralysis stems from inflammation or swelling of the facial (seventh cranial) nerve which passes through a narrow, bony ridge on its way from the brain to the facial muscles.

The slightest swelling pinches off the impulses and the longer this trauma continues, the more extensive the degeneration of the nerve and the more difficult the cure. This shows why early treatment is necessary and accounts for the failure of cortisone or ACTH unless used within the first few days.

There are several remedies and the prospects for complete recovery are good in 80 to 90 per cent of all cases. Fairable results are obtainable through physical therapy, especially with daily treatments during the first few weeks of illness. Heat via the infra-red lamp relaxes the tissues.

This is followed by electrical stimulation and massage which encourage return of strength to the involved muscles. Treatment is extended to the home when the individual learns to massage his face. As the nerve regenerates, he tries to move the affected muscles. This may not be easy and should be done before a mirror for best results.

Hollywood scribe Herb Stein hotly defends his many afternoons spent at the race track. "Not only am I in the open air," he points out, "but running back and forth between the paddock to the grandstand is magnificent exercise.

A gathering of 5,300 persons witnessed the Cumberland Day program yesterday at Fairgo and saw Mrs. R. C. Williams' Say, winner of the 1954 Dapper Dan Trophy, romp to a lengths' triumph over Sabine Lass in the featured City of Cumberland Purse, sixth event on the card.

Mike Sorrentino was in the pilot house of the winning mount which covered the 6½ furlongs in 1:21 4/5. Say returned $4.40 for $2.

Major Roy W. Eves presented a savings bond to R. C. Williams, husband of the owner of the 4-year-old son of Saggy.

28th Favorite To Win

Say, incidentally, was the fourth favorite to register during the 7th day of the Cumberland Fair Association's 10-day meeting and the 28th bettors' choice to finish in front in 56 contests, an average of 50 per cent.

Dave R. Pearce is the trainer of Say and he saddled another winner during the day when Joyce's Joy, a 5-year-old gelding, owned by his wife, whopped Fireagain, the favorite, by a half length in the 8th and paid off to the tune of $17.60 for each $2 played on the nose.

In the secondary feature, the Millard Taws, Young Turk emerged the victor by photo finish over the veteran campaigner, Alexis, who once ran in the Kentucky Derby, while Air Attack, the favorite, finished third. Young Turk, with Eddie Christison aboard, covered the route of a mile and a sixteenth in 1:51 1/5.

Taws Presents Bond

J. Millard Taws, Maryland's state comptroller and former president of the Maryland Volunteer Firemen's Association, presented a savings bond to W. Allan, owner and trainer of Young Turk, who paid $6.20 to those holding $2 win tickets.

Allan also chalked up a "double" for the day when his 8-year-old brown mare, Biddy Doyle, with Christison up, scored over the favored Suebarb in the fourth and paid off $7.

The best payoff of the day was recorded in the third race when Jane's Error, an 18-1 shot, owned by J. F. Miller, dashed home ahead of Lovely Moon by the margin of three lengths under the guidance of Bobby Runyon and rewarded backers with $38.20, the second highest payoff at the current meeting. The three-year-old Natchez filly was the first winner ridden by Runyon.

Jimmy Edwards also scored his first winner when he booted Millies Jane home ahead of Quarter Grand and Far Superior in the opening number. Millies Jane coupled with Worth A Name, winner of the second, netted a daily double payoff of $27.80. The double pool amounted to $18,878 and is exceeded only by Saturday's $22,764.

Worth A Name, a red hot favorite piloted by Willie Clark, scored by a length over Porters Queen. Clark Has 18 Winners

Clark marked up his 18th win of the meeting on Crank Handle which finished eight lengths in the fore of Miss Elfreda in the 5th. Willife needs only five more wins in the next three days to surpass the Fairgo record of 22 credited to Carson Kirk in 1943. Crank Handle, incidentally, won his fifth race in three years at Fairgo while his trainer, C. P. "Buck" Chenoweth, of Baltimore County, retained the lead in the trainers' race with five firsts.

The Cumberland Day handle was $176,551 and boosted the 7-day total to $1,138,300, which is $3,731 better than the $1,134,569 wagered in seven days a year ago. Yesterday's betting topped the 7th day handle of 1954 by 2,847.

Today is Governor's Day at Fairgo with Governor Theodore R. McKeldin slated to attend and present a trophy to the owner of the winning horse in the featured sixth race.

Archie Moore Flattens Olson In 3rd Round Of Title Bout

Light-Heavy Champ Falls In Line For Shot At Marciano

BY JACK HAND

NEW YORK, June 22 (P)—Archie Moore gambled a million dollar future and won tonight, destroying middleweight champion Bobo Olson on a knockout in 1:19 of the third round to move into line for a September heavyweight title shot with Rocky Marciano.

The fact that Archie, the 33-year-old ring gypsy, was making the fourth defense of his world light heavyweight title was almost incidental. For Moore had campaigned long and hard for a chance at the heavyweight title and had taken on Olson only to further this ambition.

A murderous right hand punch to the head following a miss by Olson started Bobo on the way. A smashing left hook to the jaw dropped the baldish Hawaiian on the deck for the one and only knockdown of the fight.

As Referee Ruby Goldstein tolled off the count, Olson tried vainly to get to his feet. At the count of 1 he was creeping across the ring toward his own corner with a queer expression on his sad face, unable to make his legs obey his commands.

Once he groped to his feet, Olson refused to believe the bout was over. He wanted to continue and started to try to square off with Archie as Goldstein intervened.

The end came with a quick explosion on this steaming humid night for Olson had been giving Archie all he wanted until the old boy lowered the boom.

Stopped Second Time

It was only the second time Olson had been knocked out in his 70-bout career and his first defeat after 21 straight victories. Sugar Ray Robinson, who tried unsuccessfully to make the same jump from the middles to the light heavies on another jungle hot night in 1952 owned the only previous KO over Olson. It was scored in 1950.

The odds, of 12 to 5 and better favoring Moore reflected the expert belief that he could pare down from the 196½ he weighed May 2.

Old Germans Extend String

County Loop Leaders Belt Mt. Savage, 18-4

Potomac Valley's Old Germans racked up their 11th consecutive win and took a lead of 4½ games in the County Softball League by walloping the Mt. Savage K. of C. yesterday at Mt. Savage to the tune of 18-4.

Manager Jimmy Allen's swat-smiths collected 18 hits while Junior Brelsford was limiting the opposition to six bungles to register his fifth straight pitching triumph.

Ware and Moreland clouted a homer and two singles each, Barton collected three singles, Skelly blasted a triple and single and Scarpelli and Lease had two one-base knocks apiece for the league leaders. Eddie Williams hit for the circuit for the losers.

The Old Germans have scored 72 runs in their last four outings.

Score:
MT. SAVAGE 000 2-4 6 2
OLD GERMANS 50(19) 210 x-18 18 1

Moran, Brelsford and Barton, LP—Cunningham, HR—Ware (Moreland (Old Germans)), E. Williams (Mt. Savage).

Barton, Piedmont Chalk Up Wins In Pony League

At Las Vegas and still be strong at the 175-pound class limit.

Archie just made the weight at noon, coming in at 175 "on the nose," while Olson weighed in a trifle heavy at 179½.

If Olson had won, he would have vacated his 160-pound middleweight crown automatically under New York and National Boxing Assn. rules. Moore's powerful finish saved him that problem.

Days and possibly weeks of negotiation with Al Weil Rocky Marciano's manager, probably will intervene before the Moore-Marciano bid is arranged for September.

But after tonight's decisive victory, it is difficult to see how the ancient globe trotter can be bypassed.

"Good Big Man" Wins

It was the old ring story of the "good big man beating the good little man" just as it was the torrid night in '52 when Ray Robinson collapsed from the heat and Joey Maxim's fists.

If an odd coincidence, the referee on this hot night was the same Ruby Goldstein who collapsed during the Robinson-Maxim bout and had to be relieved by Ray Miller.

Referee Goldstein had scored the first two rounds for Olson. Judges Artie Aidala and Harold Barnes had the same cards, one round for each man, the first to Bobo and the second to Archie. The Associated Press had it 2-0 for Olson after two rounds.

It's A Young Team

PITTSBURGH (P)—The Pittsburgh Pirates are learning the hard way—that one run means a lot in a ball game. In their first 51 games the Pirates won only 17 games. They won 6 and lost 7 one-run games.

Shea Beats Vic Seixas In England

Coast Youth Pulls Upset At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England, June 22 (P)—A frisky young American with a grin like Huckleberry Finn scored an upset over ailing Davis Cupper Vic Seixas in the second round of the Wimbledon Tennis Championships today as a record crowd poured into these ancient grounds.

Seixas, 31-year-old Philadelphian who was third seeded this year, lost in a rugged battle to Gil Shea of Los Angeles, 3-6, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4 in the top match thus far in the three-day-old 69th Wimbledon Tournament.

Seixas started as if he would win in three quick sets. But when he was 5-0 in the first set he suddenly came down with a sore right shoulder and from then on his usually powerful slashing game sagged lower and lower.

Seixas, winner of the American singles last year and first ranked in the U. S., thus leaves Tony Trabert of Cincinnati as the only York Davis Cup player still in competition for this most coveted of tennis crowns.

Trabert won easily from left-hander Trevor Fancutt of South Africa, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2.

Five other seeded players won rather handily although Australia's Ken Rosewall dropped a set to George Worthington, another Australian. But defending champion Jaroslav Drobný had a real tussle with Mervyn Rose of Australia.

"Old Drob" suffering from assorted ailments and injuries this season, battled Rose on even terms until the 17th game of the third set. Then the younger Rose, unused for the first time in four years, came apart and Drobný won, 6-4, 3-6, 11-6, 4-6.

Budge Patty of Los Angeles and Paris, 1950 Wimbledon winner, made his seventh seeding look good with a 6-0, 6-4, 6-3 victory over Peter School of Germany.

How busy is your phone?

Secrets Of Charm

Good manners, like grooming, "why did you call?" tone in your voice, he'll wish he hadn't called at all.

When a boy does call and gets to the point with, "Would you like to go to the movies with me on Saturday?", you have no problems. If you want to go, accept the date graciously. Assure him that you mean what you say. Don't stall and play hard to get. He'll know it is a fake and forget your telephone number completely.

Not that it's necessary to accept a date. A girl is never under any obligation to accept every date offer. But, it is best to play fair and be direct. Just say: "Thank you for asking me, but I have made other plans for the evening." Then, there'll be no hurt feelings.

Md. Volunteer Firemen Open Conclave Here

Delegates From 158 Fire-Fighting Units Welcomed To City

Mayor Roy W. Eves extended a warm welcome to delegates attending the 63rd annual convention of the Maryland State Firemen's Association during the opening business session yesterday afternoon at the National Guard Armory, South Centre Street.

The mayor, who was introduced by John W. Smith, West Annapolis, president of the state association, told the delegates that he hoped they would have a good time during their stay in the Queen City. He welcomed them: "Howdy, f*cks."

Rev. James W. Minter, Hereford, state chaplain, opened the business session with invocation, and the delegates from 158 units sang a verse of "America."

J. Millard Tawes, Maryland state comptroller and past president of the association, gave the response and thanked the City of Cumberland for the hospitality extended to the delegates.

He added a touch of humor when he said that the firemen not only got warm hospitality but also a "warm atmosphere" as the temperature was rather "close" in the armory.

Commands Firemen

Tawes assured Mayor Eves that the many delegates from throughout the state would take back a message of good will to the various communities of Maryland represented at the three-day convention here.

He commended the volunteers for their devotion to duty and wished them all good luck.

Other business which followed included appointment of the reception, credential and resolution committees by Smith.

Past presidents in attendance were introduced by Rev. Minter who commended them on the job they did in the past and pointed out that they are always helpful in protecting lives of citizens.

At this point of the business session, President Smith recognized Douglas Waddell of Good Will Volunteer Fire Company of Lonaconing, an active member of the organization, who attended the first state convention held in Frederick in 1893.

Waddell, who is 85 years of age and a retired coal miner, received an ovation from the delegates.

Cromwell C. Zembower of La Vale, a past president who is liaison committee chairman, reported to the delegates and outlined the activities of the convention. He commended the convention chairmen for their cooperation in making the convention a success.

Business Postponed

After it was decided that the reading of the minutes of last year's convention be dispensed with, officers and committee chairmen were introduced and received a round of applause.

Proposed changes to the constitution and by-laws were dispensed with yesterday afternoon and the presentation will be discussed today.

Joseph F. X. Mayhew, chairman of the Fire Extension Committee of the association, which works hand in hand with the University of Maryland, reviewed the highlights of the program and the important phase of firemanship. Mayhew asked the delegates in attendance to keep up their interest and good work in this phase of firemanship. He reported that the cooperation of the university has been excellent.

Shoulder Patches Presented

A highlight of the afternoon was the presentation of shoulder patches to instructors of the fire extension courses given throughout the state.

The volunteers receiving the patches from Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of the University, and Robert C. Byrus, director of Fire Extension Service, were congratulated for their good work as instructors.

Mrs. Della Daugherty, president of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Maryland State Firemen's Association, gave the annual report of that organization and told the volunteers that when she was elected she made up her mind to make the year a success and it was just that.

After giving her report she presented a gift on behalf of the Auxiliary to Smith and thanked the volunteers for their cooperation during the past year.

A report on the hospital fund was given by Mrs. Bessie Marshall who remarked that it was a privilege to serve in that position. She pointed out that the motion to provide some means of help for firemen injured not in the line of duty was made at the convention held in Oakland in 1935.

"Getting The Most Out of Radio," a panel discussion, was held during the afternoon session. Joseph Giannetto spoke on "Laws Governing Use;" a member of the Maryland State Police spoke on "Speaking Clearly Over the Air;" Robert Smith, "Prevention of (Continued on Page 10, Col. 1)

State Firemen's Convention In Pictures

The convention opens, with Robert C. Byrus, head of the Fire Extension Service of the University of Maryland (left) greeting Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, university president, and John W. Smith, president of the firemen, who is presiding at sessions of the convention.

Robert Creaghan and Ersel D. Davey of the state Civil Defense headquarters chat with Del. John C. Luber, speaker of the House of Delegates, at the evening session, during which all three spoke. Creaghan "pinch-hit" for Sherley Ewing, state C D director, who could not attend.

Douglas G. Waddell (right), 85, of Lonaconing, shows James E. Sampson of Brentwood a ribbon he purchased at the first state convention in Frederick in 1893. Sampson himself has been to every convention since 1923. They were two of several "oldtimers" here for the convention.

University Head Praises Studious Blaze-Battlers

Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of the University of Maryland, gave the main address yesterday afternoon at the National Guard Armory during the opening business session of the 63rd annual convention of the Maryland State Firemen's Association.

He pointed out that no immediate changes are expected in the Fire Extension Service program of the university. Dr. Elkins, who gave his first talk before the association, pointed out that this also was his first trip to Cumberland.

Dr. Elkins said he was impressed by the program in firemanship, and commented on the enthusiasm prevailing throughout the communities of the state on the part of those taking the training.

Dr. Elkins said that volunteer firemen get a satisfaction from the "inner self" by serving the interests of the community. He pointed out that their service to society aids not only the individual but also the community and the state.

The announcement was to be made tonight, ending a short-lived feud between the two youth groups in mock legislative sessions here.

Yesterday the boys voted unanimously to boycott the dance if the girls did not reverse an alleged earlier stipulation that the Negro boys could not dance at the ball, although they could attend.

Even though Mrs. Harry Williams, Girls State director, denied the boys had ever been formally invited to the affair, she said today the girls would go along with the boys' suggestion of inviting several Negro girls to serve as dates for the Negro boys.

Earle R. Poorbaugh, boys' state director, said the plan would be "satisfactory" with the boys.

He said earlier that the dance announcement came from a "high official" from Girls State, but admitted no invitation had been extended to the boys.

Mrs. Williams had expressed "surprise" at the boys' vote, but explained the dance usually was a "closed affair" between the two groups, which are sponored by the American Legion and Legion Auxiliary.

Meanwhile the girls named Ruth Leroy of Pikesville as their mayor, Carol Sanders of Glen Burnie as City Council president and Olivia Seaggs of Laurel, comptroller.

The boys began their campaign for governor between Warren Donohue of Mt. St. Joseph High of Baltimore and Thomas Longerbeam of Montgomery Blair High School in Silver Spring.

The election is on Friday.

The girls are holding their weekly program in the Statehouse and the boys are meeting at St. John's College.

Bible School Plans Closing Exercise

Commencement exercises for the Vacation Bible School being conducted at LaValle Baptist Church will be held Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the church.

A display of handwork will be exhibited by each department of the school, which has an enrollment of 154. All parents and visitors are invited.

Hat Show Planned At Virginia Avenue

As its first special event, Virginia Avenue Playground will hold a hat show today at 7:30 p.m. on the grounds at the school.

All registered members of the playground are eligible to participate and gain honor points. Prizes will be awarded for the prettiest, most original, largest and smallest hat.

Miss Angela Dougherty is leader of the playground.

Stolen Car Found

State Police said last night a car reported stolen about 1 a.m. yesterday from near Browne's Confectionery on Williams Street had been recovered by the owner. Mrs. Spates, Frostburg, last night, reported.

7 Negro Boys Will Attend Girls State Ball

ANNAPOLIS, June 22 (P)—Seven Negro members of Boys State will be allowed to take Negro dates to a joint inaugural ball with Girls State here Friday night, the girls decided today.

The announcement was to be made tonight, ending a short-lived feud between the two youth groups in mock legislative sessions here.

Yesterday the boys voted unanimously to boycott the dance if the girls did not reverse an alleged earlier stipulation that the Negro boys could not dance at the ball, although they could attend.

The girls are holding their weekly program in the Statehouse and the boys are meeting at St. John's College.

Dr. Elkins was introduced to the delegates by John W. Smith, president of the Maryland State Firemen's Association. Host to this week is the Allegany-Garrett County Association.

As to the future of the Fire Extension Service, Dr. Elkins said he pledges interest and consideration, and that the sizeable amounts of money which must be spent are in the interest of all citizens of the state.
